TWO SALESMEN FACE NEW FALSE PRETENSE COUNT

Peter J. Buntag, Pittsburgh, and Theodore J. Wiseman, Munhall, Pa., charged Thursday with cheating by false pretense on a new information filed by J. Howard Brown, Gettysburg R. 2, waived a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore and were held for court. They furnished $1,500 bail each Thursday night.

Buntag and Wiseman had been held for court Thursday morning on a similar charge filed by Richard Cochran, Gettysburg R. 5, following a hearing in Squire Basehore's office. They were re-arrested on the new charge preferred by Brown shortly before noon. A hearing was scheduled in the afternoon, after they had been photographed and fingerprinted by state police.

Similar Charges
The Brown charges were similar to those filed by Cochran, and allege that the two men offered to place aluminum siding on Brown's home at no cost to him with the understanding that Brown's home was to be used as a "sample house" to show prospective customers.

Demands were later made on both Brown and Cochran for payment for the work. Cochran admitted signing an alleged contract for $3,500, and Brown for $3,750, but said they were told this was to protect the company against sale of the properties within two years.

Buntag and Wiseman were admitted to $1,500 bail each on the Cochran charges. The same amounts were furnished on the Brown charges.

Fallen Tree Blocks Highway

Traffic on the Hunterstown-Shriver's Corner road was cut off for several hours Wednesday afternoon when a wind and rain storm hurled an 80-foot tree across the highway. The picture shows the scene from across the Beaver Dam creek, looking east toward Hunterstown. The stream, shown below the bridge at right, is high from the rain. Hidden entirely from the camera by the fallen tree is a shed owned by Clair Tate against which the top of the tree brushed as it fell. (Gettysburg Times photo)

Wall Of Newly Constructed Aspers Plant Collapses During Heavy Wind Storm Thursday

For the second consecutive afternoon a wind, rain and hail storm beat against the northern half of Adams county Thursday afternoon. This time wind damage was confined to the Aspers area where tremendous gusts of wind and rain sent a newly constructed cinder-block wall at the Duffy-Mott plant smashing to the ground, causing $3,500 damage.

The blinding sheets of rain that accompanied the storm probably saved nine men from death or serious injury when the wall fell.

The wall was the west side of a 100 by 144 foot cinder block and steel warehouse being constructed by the Gettysburg Building Supply for the Aspers fruit processing plant. A triangular section of the wall 100 feet long at the top and about 50 feet long at the bottom and 26 feet high collapsed under the buffeting of the wind.

Nine workmen had been engaged in putting in cross beams preparatory to placing the roof on the new building when the rain forced them to flee to a smaller structure also under construction at the plant, but which was under roof.

Within three minutes after the men had fled the building, the wall crumpled and fell into the space where they had been working throughout the day.

So hard did the wind blow that one of the blocks in the wall was hurled 26 feet from the wall and deposited atop one of the beams for the roof.

MARKS 37 YEAR GARAGE SERVICE

Carl S. Menchey, county treasurer, today observed the 37th anniversary of the date of his affiliation with the National garage here. A search through some back records on another matter disclosed that Menchey began work at the garage July 20, 1914.

A graduate, of about a month, of the local high school, Menchey found much of his work on Sundays "when usually we had 15 or 20 flat tires to fix." Fabric tires of those days, Menchey recalls, "lasted about 1,000 miles. Now we complain if we have a flat tire in 20,000 miles."

The rutted, muddy surface of Chambersburg street was then known as the "spring breaker," Menchey said, "because so many cars broke springs when driven on the street. Without shock absorbers, the springs snapped frequently when cars dropped into the potholes in the sandy street."

Automobiles were received then by railway in a dismantled condition and had to be assembled at the local garages.

MEXICANS ARE HOTEL GUESTS AT BREAKFAST

Senor Antonio Ruiz Galindo, proprietor of the Hotel Ruiz Galindo, Fortin de las Flores, state of Vera Cruz, Mexico, and Senor and Senora Horacio Casassus, the former attorney for Asociacion Mexicana de Hoteles, Mexico, D.F., were breakfast guests at the Hotel Gettysburg this morning, enroute to Washington, D. C., where they will board a plane tonight for their return to Mexico.

They were accompanied by Franklin Moore, Harrisburg, president of the Inter-American Hotel association, who was their host at a dinner at the Penn Harris, in Harrisburg, Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Scharf of the Hotel Gettysburg attended the dinner.

On Battlefield Tour

Senor Galindo and Senor and Senora Casassus returned recently from Europe, where they visited officers of the International Hotel association and worked out program details of conventions of the International association and the Inter-American association, who, together with members of the American Hotel association, will be guests of the Mexican Hotel association in November. This will mark the first time in history that hotelmen of most of the world, with the exception of Russia and China, will meet at one place.

During their brief stop in Gettysburg this morning the Mexicans were much impressed with the Gettysburg college campus and the battlefield. They were taken on a short tour of the latter. Beginning Monday at 10 a.m., a series of five daily one-hour lessons will be offered to all interested adults who wish to learn to swim. Miss Elizabeth Blocher will be the instructor. The Battlefield pool is being made available through the courtesy of the owners.

Many of them mothers who decided to keep up with their children in the skill and fun of water sport.

To date, some 390 children in Adams county have participated in this summer's "Learn to Swim" program given free by the Red Cross and conducted at the Battlefield pool, at the Crouse pool in Littlestown and at the Gettysburg Country club pool.

ELKS DANCE SATURDAY

Ira Bowman and his orchestra from Lancaster will furnish the music for the special dance to be held at the Elks home on York street Saturday evening.

Munsan, Korea, July 20 (P)—The Korean armistice talks, focus of world hopes for peace, took a back seat today to the weather.

A flash flood turned a creek 10 miles south of the Kaesong conference site into a raging torrent and barred jeeps carrying United Nations delegates to the truce city. Twenty newsmen and service personnel who crossed the stream before it became impassable reached Kaesong. They returned in late afternoon after the flood waters subsided.

Helicopters Grounded

Bad weather also grounded the helicopters in which U.N. delegates usually travel the 14 airline miles to Kaesong.

The eighth session between U.N. and Communist teams—generally regarded as crucial in this first phase of the peace talks—was postponed until 10 a.m. tomorrow (7 p.m. EST, Friday).

A single major issue bars agreement on an agenda which would permit the armistice talks to move into the second phase.

While there has been official silence at the U.N. advance camp here, both Communist and high United States sources have made clear that the knot was tied by Red demands for withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea.

Communist radios in Pyongyang, the Red Korean capital, Peiping and Moscow have dimmed this theme.

Want Genuine Peace

And in Washington, U. S. Secretary of State Acheson said a U.N. force "must remain in Korea until a genuine peace has been firmly established."

Acheson in a statement confirmed that "the Communist delegation at Kaesong has raised the question of the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea in connection with an armistice." He added:

PASTURES TOUR NEXT THURSDAY; TO LIST WINNERS

The annual pasture improvement tour held by the Adams county Production and Marketing Administration committee will be held Thursday, July 26, the PMA announced today.

Winners in the annual "Green Pastures" contest will be announced at the beginning of the tour together with the prizes to be awarded the victors in the event.

Pastures selected for the trip, which will begin at 9:30 o'clock next Thursday morning from the Farm Bureau building, North Washington street, were chosen because they are representative of the 14 entered in the contest, the PMA committee said rather than because of any position they may have been awarded in the contest.

Open To Public

The tour will proceed from the Farm Bureau building to the farm of Walter Hay, Gettysburg R. 3, and from there will go to the Emory Gitt farm, along the Littlestown road.

After luncheon the group will visit the Irvin Hostetter farm, Hanover R. 4; the farm of Rose Murren, also of Hanover R. 4, and the John Hartlaub farm, Hanover R. 4.

During the tour, which is open to the public, the county PMA office will be closed.

Members of the committee urged all county farmers to take part in the tour to see how lime and fertilizer programs improve pastures.

Breeders To Hold Twilight Meeting

A twilight meeting sponsored by the Southeastern Pennsylvania Artificial Breeding association, of which several hundred Adams county farmers are members, will be held August 10 at the farm of Harry Christner, near Hanover.

Roger L. Emig, field supervisor for the association, will speak as will either Joseph Taylor or Harvey Shaffer, Pennsylvania State college extension specialists. The program will begin at 6:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

CRIME WITNESS THREATENED IN RESORT PROBE

Washington, July 20 (AP) — The Senate Crime committee's counsel said today a witness called in its Atlantic City inquiry was told last night he would be "rubbed out" if he testified against the resort city's reputed gambling kingly.

Angry denouncing any attempt to intimidate committee witnesses, Chief Counsel Richard Moser said the matter has been turned over to the FBI.

Moser related the incident as Herman "Stumpy" Orman, identified by an Atlantic City policeman yesterday as the top figure in Atlantic City gambling, was testifying again today. Orman has denied being connected with professional gambling.

The witness whom Moser said had been threatened was identified as Francis L. Smith. Moser said Smith has a jewelry store on the boardwalk at Atlantic City.

Finger At Orman

Moser said that last night "a man named Joe Ryan, a jewelry salesman, walked into Smith's store and told the girl behind the counter to tell Smith that if he testified before the Crime committee against Mr. Orman he is going to be rubbed out."

Orman quickly and hotly told Moser he knew nothing about it. Moser snapped back that he wanted Orman to understand that no one is going to threaten witnesses called by the committee.

The committee counsel then added that the matter has been referred to the FBI and said every effort will be made to get to the bottom of it.

"If anything happens to Mr. Smith," he told Orman, "the finger is pointed right at you."

Rising from his place at the witness table, Orman shouted he knew nothing about it, had nothing to do with it and resented Moser's implication.

3 FARM GROUPS

the move was made to make it more convenient for farmers who frequently have to travel to various sections of the town in order to secure the services they seek.

The PMA has had its office at the Farm Bureau building on North Washington street since 1936 and the Farm Credit representative has used office space there. The Soil Conservation district office has been in the Topper building since establishment of the district about five years ago.

An addition was made to the first floor of the building at 146 York street to provide 1200 square feet of floor space for the combined offices.

Hollywood, July 20 (AP) — West coast television producers have adopted a purity code calculated to shield the viewer from the cruder aspects of modern civilization.

The new code of ethics was approved yesterday by 53 executives representing the National Society of Television producers. It represents the first formal action by the TV industry to follow the moral high-road cut by radio and the movies. It embodies nearly all the taboos and adds a few of its own.

MASON NAMES
MYSTERY MAN
IN "CON" PROBE

Washington, July 20 (AP) — Sam Mason, described by senators as a confidence man who fleeced his victims of thousands of dollars, said today he never had made any effort to fulfill his rosy promises.

And, he told a special Senate investigating committee, he has fled no income tax returns since about 1929.

Mason testified that he gave all the money he took in to a mysterious figure he identified as "Mr. Eungart."

Committee employees told reporters they hunted earlier for—but couldn't find—Eungart.

Gone To Australia

Mason, a man with a red face and an artificial leg, said Eungart might be called "Ven" or "Vince" although he was not sure. Anyway, he said, Eungart was his agent or go-between with government officials.

Asked where Eungart is now, Mason said he understands Eungart has gone to Australia, but that he will be back, perhaps in August.

"Eungart lived in Washington and he lived pretty high," Mason said. "He knew the right people and that's the way things are done here."

"Did Eungart ever deliver leases for which you gave him money?" Hoey asked.

"No, but he gave me a pretty good excuse," Mason replied. "He told me he couldn't get them right now because of the scandal now going on in Washington."

Fleeced Them Of $200,000

Before Mason testified, Meyer J. Sawyer, a Washington attorney, denied that he had any knowledge that Mason was collecting big sums of money from people introduced to him by Sawyer.

Right at the start, the Senate committee, which is studying people who say they can influence government officials, started wondering about Mason's income.

He took the witness chair after Senator Hoey (D-NC), the committee chairman, put in the record what he termed Mason's criminal record. Hoey previously had said the record is a long one.

Five witnesses testified yesterday that Mason fleeced them of more than $200,000 by promising to obtain bargain leases on "surplus" government buildings and to arrange for business contracts.

KITCHEN OUTLETS

Electrical outlets should be placed at table height in the kitchen. This permits shorter cords for electrical devices and also allows the electrical equipment to be used at the convenient places for the housewife to work.

GLASS COVER

A glass ironing board cover that will not burn or char soon will be available. Spots may be easily removed with a damp cloth or with a dry-cleaning fluid.

NOISY FAUCETS

In less modern plumbing systems a humming or pounding noise is sometimes heard when a faucet is partly turned on. This may be caused in a compression-type faucet, by a loose cap nut, a worn spindle, or a loose defective disk.

Favored Merged Nations

The wily, powerful monarch was a member of the Hashemite royal family of Middle-Eastern rulers whose ambition long had been to join the fertile crescent of Syria, Iraq and Jordan into a single, mighty nation.

Only last Monday in Amman an assassin's bullet killed Riad el Solh, foreign minister of Lebanon, an act which joined the turbulent and nervous Middle East.

Riad el Solh was killed by Syrian nationalists. The act touched off riots in Lebanon, where Solh had been a leading political figure and head of numerous postwar Lebanese governments. He had long been an opponent of Abdullah's greater Syria ambitions.

Abdullah was 69 years old. He was regarded as one of the most powerful figures in the Middle East, holding the balance of power there with his formidable Arab legion army formed under British direction.

Elders Son Is Ill

Abdullah's eldest son, Crown Prince Tallal, who once acted as ruler of Jordan in the king's absence, is now in Beirut for treatment for what published reports have called a "general nervous breakdown."

Reports from Jordan on July 10 said Tallal, 40, had suffered a relapse and that his removal to Switzerland had been recommended.

Recently reports published in Egypt said King Abdullah was planning to amend his country's constitution so that he could appoint his grand-nephew, Boy King Feisal of Iraq, as Jordan's crown prince and thus successor to the Jordan crown. Prince Abdul Ilah, regent of Iraq and Abdullah's nephew, recently visited the king in Amman.

Close British Ties

Abdullah's small but tightly knit kingdom is closely tied to Great Britain by treaty. The British retain rights to base troops and planes in Jordan, a country strategically situated northeast of the Suez canal and in the midst of the Near East's rich oil fields.

Abdullah gained international importance during the Palestine war, when his troops put up the main battle in the fight against fledgling Israel by her Arab neighbors. Since the end of the war his relations bettered considerably with neighbor Israel across the Jordan, and other Arab nations looked with some suspicion upon the Hashemite ruler.

The area of Italy is 119,800 square miles.

Telephone Operator
Sticks To Her Job

Philadelphia, July 20 (AP) — A 24-year-old telephone operator whose job it is to take emergency calls remained at her switchboard for more than a quarter of an hour today while smoke from a fire next door threatened to overcome her.

Mrs. Helen Kilderry wrapped her head in a water-soaked dress for protection when the fumes made her gasp. Finally, persuaded that she had done all she could, she heeded a fireman's demand that she get out, and was helped down a ladder.

The fire was in the basement of a dress shop in northeast Philadelphia. About 20 firemen were felled by the smoke.

Philadelphia, July 20 (AP) — Sixteen coast guardsmen, stricken with food poisoning, were expected to return to duty today. U. S. public health officers are investigating cause of the illness. All 16 suffered violent nausea Wednesday night, a few hours after dinner.

Others served at the same meal were not affected. Officials said the food served—steak, potatoes and peas—had just been obtained from the Philadelphia naval base, and could not have been more than three days old. The steaks were frozen and the peas were canned.

Thanksgiving Days have been observed in America on various dates ever since November, 1621.

Women Picks Cats
For Reincarnation

Los Angeles, July 20 (AP) — A University of California at Los Angeles psychology professor, propounding some hypothetical questions involving reincarnation, has discovered that women, if they had to choose a non-human form in a return to earth, would be cats.

The survey, conducted by Dr. F. J. Lehner, also discovered that women are more unselfish than men and that they have a greater desire for world peace.

Possibly influenced by the accomplishment of the great thoroughbred, Citation, which recently ran his earnings past the $1,000,000 mark, some of the men said they preferred to return to earth as horses. Others wished to reappear as dogs, lions, monkeys, deer and birds.

The survey embraced 96 students. Their wishes, listed in order of preference, were world peace, marriage, happiness, success, security, family welfare, social welfare, wealth and vocational achievement.

CAUGHT IN ZIPPER: SUES

Los Angeles, July 20 (AP) — Because Mrs. Florence Goldenberg got caught in the zipper of a pair of slacks she was trying on, she wants $2,953. She said she suffered that amount of "physical, economic and mental damage" because the slacks were "unsafe and unsound." Operators of the store claimed she failed to use ordinary care. The case is to be decided today.

CHISOX, INDIANS BEAT YANKEES, RED SOX AS RACE GROWS TIGHTER

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Roberto Francisco Avila, fleet-footed Cleveland second baseman, is the main reason why the Tribe has the "Indian sign" on Boston and is only one and a half games behind the American league-leading Red Sox today.

It was Avila's batting and fielding yesterday that gave the Indians a 5-4 victory over Boston in 11 innings, their ninth win in 15 meetings with the pace-setters. That left the Tribe still in fourth place, but only two percentage points behind the third-place New York Yankees.

The world champion Yanks bowed to Chicago, 2-1, as the White Sox bounced back to within three percentage points of the top. Only 17 points and a game and a half separate the first four clubs in one of the tightest races on record.

Nationals Rained Out

Rain played havoc with the National league schedule wiping out every game. The American managed to play all their. Detroit and Philadelphia divided a doubleheader. The Tigers won the second game, 4-3, after Morris Martin had hurled the Athletics to a 5-0 shutout victory in the opener. In a night game the St. Louis Browns beat Washington, 9 to 7.

Avila, a singles hitter (only 15 of his 87 hits have gone for extra bases), slapped four yesterday to lead the Indians to their triumph. His fourth single scored pinch hitter Bob Lemon with the tying run after the Sox had tallied once in the top of the 11th. With two out, Sam Chapman singled behind third. Left fielder Ted Williams, expecting Avila to stop at third, held the ball momentarily. Avila, with a burst of speed, surprised Williams by keeping right on running to beat Ted's throw to the plate.

Outfit 11-5, the White Sox nevertheless took the rubber of the three-game set with New York on the erratic but effective hurling of Howie Judson. The right-hander yielded at least one hit in each of the first seven innings, and put runners on base in every frame until relieved by Billy Pierce in the ninth. A double play ended the last Yankee threat in the ninth.

At that, the lone Yankee run, in the fifth, was unearned. It resulted from Gerry Coleman's single, Nellie Fox' error and a force play. Minnie Minoso's spectacular catch of Yogi Berra's bid for an extra baser ended the rally.

The Sox got their runs off loser Ed Lopat in the third. Chico Carrasquel singled, Joe Erazo walked, both runners advanced on a sacrifice and scored on a fly by Bob Dillinger and a double by Fox.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)

Harrisburg fans watched their Interstate league Senators bow twice to the Lancaster Red Roses last night, but the sting of the double defeat was lessened by some unexpected excitement.

It was Jersey Joe Walcott, the new heavyweight champion of the world, who touched off the uproar. Joe, glowing and expansively friendly, visited the ball park in the course of a whirlwind tour of Harrisburg and nearby points. A turnout of 643 greeted him with cheers.

Oh yes, the scores of the twin bill were 4 to 2 and 8 to 6.

In the only other game played in the loop, the Allentown Cardinals coupled two hits with a pair of walks for three runs in the 13th inning to defeat the Sunbury Giants 6 to 3. Scheduled games between York and Wilmington and Hagerstown and Salisbury were rained out.

Softball League Schedule Altered

Due to the Midget Baseball league changing its games for next week from night games to the twilight affairs, the Softball league schedule for the coming week has been revamped.

Next week's tilts will be as follows: Monday, Stanton Legion vs. Eagles, 7:30; Texas Lunch vs. Elks; Tuesday, Eagles vs. Texas Lunch, 7:30; Glenn L. WALCOTT PLANS TRIP TO CAMDEN

Pittsburgh, July 20 (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott got set today for "one of the happiest days of my life"—a day when he goes home to Camden, N. J., with the richest ring bauble of them all.

The newly crowned heavyweight champion of the world could hardly control his excitement as he prepared to leave for Camden. He expected to arrive at the airport there about 4 p.m. (EST).

"I just wonder how many people will be on hand," said Felix Bocchicchio, manager of the Cinderella man who won the championship in his fifth try by kayoing Ezzard Charles in the 7th round of a scheduled 15-rounder Wednesday night.

"When Joe went back to Camden after his first fight with Joe Louis in 1947 around 100,000 were on hand. There'll probably be more today," Walcott wasn't a bit tired although he found his first 24 hours as champion more rigorous than a training grind. Although Joe didn't sleep much after winning the championship he was one of the first of his entourage at the breakfast table yesterday.

He climaxed his first day as champ by motoring 160 miles to Harrisburg, Pa., and returning to the steel city. "Joe had a prior commitment to speak to a negro Elks lodge at Harrisburg," Bocchicchio explained. "He had that date for a long time and winning the title didn't make any difference in his plans."

Roaring thousands greeted Walcott at Harrisburg, giving him a foretaste of what will happen at Camden.

PENN GIVES UP ON TV STAND

Los Angeles, July 20 (AP)—University of Pennsylvania, the NCAA's prodigal son, was back home today amid handshakes all around, and television, college football's fatted calf, will be killed off as scheduled.

That was the announcement yesterday from Professor Hugh C. Willett, president of the NCAA. He said Penn has finally agreed to the NCAA's plan for an experimental moratorium on football telecasts this autumn.

Thus ended a two months controversy which began when Penn balked at the video curtailment and announced its intention to televise all its home games.

The NCAA retaliated by declaring Penn a member "not in good standing" and subject to removal by vote of the membership. All major universities and colleges belong to the association.

Willett said a statement from Francis Murray, the Penn athletic director, informed him of Penn's decision to string along with the NCAA. The university agreed to televise its games in compliance with the controlled plan of the entire membership.

CITATION HAS RUN LAST RACE

Inglewood, Calif., July 20 (AP)—

"The big horse is through."

With those five words, finis was written to the racing career of Citation, the first million dollar winner in turf history and a thoroughbred many call the greatest of all time.

Jimmy Jones, the Calumet's trainer, who has guided Citation since first he groped as a shaky-legged yearling in his native Kentucky, said the words. He said them with tears in his eyes, sadness in his voice.

Retirement of Citation at the nice old age of six was the wish of Mrs. Warren Wright. She is the widow of the master of the Calumet farm in the bluegrass country, and it was her husband who set the final goal for Citation.

The goal was $1,000,000. Citation hit and passed the mark last Saturday when he won the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup handicap. The $100,000 sent his all-time earnings up to $1,085,760.

TEAMS BATTLE FOR PLAYOFFS IN SOUTH PENN

All South Penn Baseball league games this week-end are of great importance due to determining the final positions for the playoffs after the regular season which ends July 29. Results of Sunday's games and those of the final day may greatly affect the program for the Shaughnessy program.

Rogers Herr's Gettysburg team could displace Green Springs as fourth place occupants by winning from Barlow here Sunday and following with a win over Bonneauville on July 29. However, Green Springs would then be forced to lose all of its remaining games, including a postponement, to elevate Gettysburg into a playoff position.

Green Springs meets the league-leading Brushtown team on the latter's field, Granite is at Hunters-town, and Greenmount at Bonneauville this week.

Fairfield, top team in the Pen-Mar circuit, will be host to Westminster Sunday. Other games will find Cash-town at Taneytown, McSherrytown at Emmitsburg, and Littlestown at Thurmont.

In the Penn-Adams league Benderville will play at Mummaburg, and Wensville will be at Heidlersburg.

Saturday's games in the Mason-Dixon Junior league include the Gettysburg Eagles at Hanover Legion, and Littlestown at Hanover Kiwanis.

The Dodecanese Islands in the Aegean Sea are made up of about 50 islands and islets.

Harbold Hurls Perfect Contest

Don Harbold, 16-year-old York Springs southpaw, turned in a perfect pitching performance, not allowing a batsman to reach first base, as York Springs blanked Mt. Pleasant 4-0 Thursday evening at York Springs in a Bi-County league game.

Harbold fanned 17 of the 21 batsmen who faced him in the seven-inning affair and did not issue a single pass.

York Springs, leaders of the league, secured but four hits off Kimmel and Cocklin.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 20 (AP)—Just before the radio signed off on the Walcott-Charles fight, a canned voice broke in with a commercial:

"See the fistie upset of the year—the Randy Turpin-Ray Robinson fight." . . . By that time even the listeners who had been trying to make sense out of the radio report knew that a heck of an upset had just taken place in Pittsburgh. . . . Of course, it sounded as if it was more important to be the first to get Jersey Joe to say a few breathless words into the mike, but you had heard the count and a gasp: "It was a left hook" . . . And from about the fourth round on you had sensed that Joe was winning and you thought it would be nice if the old guy could hold the title a few months . . . It's hard to comprehend Walcott's victory. . . . He was a washed-up old fighter when Felix Bocchicchio brought him out of retirement in 1945. He admits to 37 years, though most people think he's older . . . He doesn't look like championship material. . . . The answer seems to be that Jersey Joe is a competent workman at his trade. A guy who learns even when he loses . . . And eventually he learns how he can hit the other guy.

THERE MUST BE AN ANSWER

George Trautman, Minor league baseball boss, has asked all Minor league clubs to furnish attendance and payroll data for the past four years . . . He wants the information for use in congressional hearings about the reserve clause and other matters . . . One North Carolina club owner (according to Richmond's Shelley Rolfe) found this an insoluble problem . . . "If we tell them what we paid under the table, we'll be in trouble with Trautman," he moaned. "If we give them the (on the record) figure, some smart lawyer is going to look at our attendance when business was good and claim we have been paying players slave wages."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

IMPORTANT PEOPLE

You must know the "important" people, say a great many. Well, that is all right, so long as those so-called important people have done important things, and therefore worthy of emulation. A person is never more important than what he has done.

The chap who plays the smallest instrument in a band or orchestra is important. Other members may be more important and get paid more but that man with the small instrument and small part can rightly feel his own importance, and take pride in the fact that he, too, is performing under the eye of the master.

I have read that Cromwell was bad at public speaking and was never noted for literary attainments. It is said that Milton wrote his dispatch in beautiful language. Both men, however, were important to their time, and are shining lights upon the pages of history.

There are those who look upon important people as show pieces, which they are in a sense; but it is inevitable that you will be noticed and envied and stared at, if you do something that is outstanding, inspiring, and permanent in influence. People will even be jealous of you, for no other reason in the world other than that you have succeeded in expressing yourself as is your right, and in fact everybody's right.

We read, and hear a great deal about important people, and then some bright day we are placed face to face with them. We "expected" that they would look and appear different, but they looked just like any other people! We must get used to the fact that important people are just like anyone else. They simply have done more with themselves and become distinguished. Which is what any of us can do. You can be important. You are probably more important than you think or realize.

You don't have to guess whether you are important or not. You will be advised of the fact by someone in some way. Many a person has been discharged from a job because the employer thought that one not important enough, only later to discover that he had made a grave mistake!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Comfort of Friends."

'GOOD AS GOLD'

When I was a little boy,
Now and then her pride and joy,
"Good as gold" my mother said
With a pat upon my head.

That was flattery I know,
But I've wished it could be so.
Just to keep her pride in me
"Good as gold" I'd like to be.

In the mail the other day
Came a card I can display.
Needing credit this it told
(As said mother) "Good as gold."

Fancied mother, as I read,
Patting once again my head.
Thought I heard her, as of old,
Proudly saying: "Good as gold."

THREE KILLED IN HEAVY STORM ON THURSDAY

Philadelphia, July 20 (AP)—A violent thunderstorm, intensified by high winds and heavy hail, swept the Philadelphia region yesterday, killing three persons, injuring many others and causing damage estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The dead were Lansing Hamilton, 48, R. 1, Yardville, N. J., killed by lightning at Garden State race track, Camden; Franklin Hofflinger, 57, Ashland Terrace, N. J., also killed by lightning, as he was working on a roofing job in Delaware county, N. J., and Bernard Paul, 30, Philadelphia, who suffered a broken neck when drenching rain caused him to fall from a roof.

Topples Hospital Chimney
The storm toppled an eight-foot chimney at Philadelphia's Presbyterian hospital, seriously injuring a woman patient and tearing a hole in the hospital roof.

The gale forced 37 persons from their homes, tearing off roofs of nine houses in a row.

It blew down a two and one-half story section of a South Philadelphia warehouse, crushing an adjacent two-story building.

Lightning struck a North Philadelphia garage, and wind hurled debris into half a dozen cars. Telephone and power poles were flattened in many places, trees were uprooted or splintered and many plate glass windows shattered.

About the same time that the chimney toppled into the Presbyterian hospital ward, a section of the roof at the hospital's nursing home was ripped off by the wind. Glass from a shattered window slightly injured two student nurses, Arville Owens, 21, of Clearfield, and Jean Keach, 19, of Gladwynne.

GREENLAND AIR FIELDS REBUILT

Washington, July 20 (AP)—American military and civilian workers have started rebuilding some vitally important World War II air fields in Greenland, along the top-of-the-world bomber routes from Russia. Equipment, supplies and construction workers started moving to Greenland several weeks ago, it was learned today.

However, Arctic ice in the Baffin Bay-Davis Strait area caused some delay.

A convoy was held up for about two weeks because of "adverse ice conditions," the navy said in answer to a question. It did not say where the conditions developed or where the convoy was headed.

However, pack ice coming down the east coast of Greenland during the late spring months rounds the southern tip and during early summer months frequently shuts off

The Count and Countess of Barcelona—he is Don Juan, pretender to the Spanish throne—walk through the Scottish countryside last August during a grouse shooting holiday at Perthshire. Rumors circulated in Madrid July 19 that the exiled pretender may renounce rights to the throne in favor of his son, Don Carlos, 13, if Generalissimo Franco will allow the boy to be crowned under a regency. approach to the Julianehaab district as the ice starts drifting toward Davis Strait. It is in the Julianehaab area that the biggest of the World War II air strips was located, at Narsarsak, with a 6,500-foot runway. Presumably this is one of the points at which the Defense Department disclosed in a cautious statement recently that "rehabilitation and construction" work is being carried out.

Actual construction work at the Greenland bases apparently is being carried on by private firms under contracts with the army engineers and air force.

American return to the Greenland and Iceland bases was made possible by the conclusion, earlier this year, of long negotiations with the governments of Denmark, which owns Greenland, and of Iceland.

Access to the Greenland and Iceland bases would be needed critically by the United States for both defensive and offensive warfare.

U. S. EMISSARY PUSHES EFFORTS ON IRAN ISSUE

Tehran, Iran, July 20 (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, continuing his door-to-door calls on Iran's officials to try to work out some compromise in the bitter British-Iranian oil row, may visit the Shah today.

A security curtain cloaks the movements of President Truman's emissary to avoid more anti-American demonstrations by Communists or Nationalists, but it is believed he plans next to visit Iran's ruler and meet with the Iranian oil nationalization board.

Since he arrived from Washington last Sunday, Harriman already has paid three visits to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh in an attempt to get modification of the nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company holdings which has halted shipments from southern oil fields. He also has had talks with numerous Iranian officials.

Little advance information has been given out on Harriman's movements since last Sunday's rioting in which 20 persons were killed and 300 hurt.

Report Several Plans

Iranian officials have been hinting in an unofficial way that they would be willing to talk over oil marketing and distribution problems with Anglo-Iranian representatives, but the British embassy seems cool to such "negotiation feelers" which avoid the main dispute over nationalization, an informed British source reported.

Iranians are believed to have discussed the possibility of such talks in the meeting between Harriman and the Parliament's joint oil nationalization board last night. Harriman has yet, however, to draw delegation has stated that it cannot go into this question, which is political x x x and can only be settled by the United Nations and the governments concerned."

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, returned to Korea yesterday from Tokyo after the Kaesong meeting broke a concrete proposal from the Iranians.

Actually, the offer to talk about marketing and distributing would be no change from the Iranian position. The Iranians have been willing all along to sell their oil to their old customers. They insist, however, on control of production and conditions of sale.

Such agreement on agenda items would mean only that the opposing parties have agreed on what to talk about, not settled the issues.

up so abruptly. He flew to Tokyo last night.

A U.N. spokesman told newsmen after the close of Thursday's brief seventh "no progress" session:

Hope for Agreement
"I think we will come to an agreement (at the next meeting) or there will be an air of finality about the disagreement."

The fact that only one issue bars an acceptable agenda indicated that the two delegations had found agreement on such questions as the significance of Parallel 38 separating North and South Korea; exchange of prisoners; creation of a buffer zone; effective time of a cease-fire order, and possibly the supervision of enemy territory by neutral groups during the cease-fire.

Such agreement on agenda items would mean only that the opposing parties have agreed on what to talk about, not settled the issues.

You've Arrived

HERE pictured is an automobile that may well be the fulfillment of any man's dream of a fine motorcar.

For you've a right to expect, when you pay a fine-car price, that your money will buy more distinction, more comfort, more performance than are to be found in vehicles of lesser worth.

So mark well the things that a ROADMASTER offers.

No other car on the American scene has a prouder bearing.

No other automobile has more spacious dimensions, more luxurious comfort, or finer appointments.

No other car has a ride more serenely smooth on curve or straightaway, highway or byway.

And no other car, at ROADMASTER's price or above, has Dynaflo, and the supreme command of every traffic condition which it provides.

So you, at the wheel of Buick's biggest and best, have a right to feel distinguished.

But there's a joy of possession which goes deeper than visible things.

There's the feel of a power plant as brilliantly eager as this great car's valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the satisfying companionship of a brawny traveler instantly responsive to your every wish.

And there's one thing more, which only ROADMASTER can give you in such generous measure. That is the pride of a wise investment, based on the fact that this car stands alone in price per pound, among fine cars similarly equipped.

So why not take that very important first step—and come in and see us soon?

U. S. INVITES 50 TO HELP FINISH JAPAN TREATY

Washington, July 20 (AP) — The United States today invited 50 nations to meet in San Francisco, September 4, to complete and sign a peace treaty with Japan.

The invitations were accompanied by copies of a treaty draft jointly sponsored by the United States and Great Britain. The invitations specified the conferences would be held "on the terms of" that draft.

Russia was among the countries invited but officials here regarded it as virtually certain that Moscow would reject the bid. The Soviet Union has sharply criticized not only some parts of the proposed treaty, but also the way it was drawn up.

Russia Wanted Veto
Russia had wanted a drafting system which would give it a veto over treaty provisions.

The treaty, as presently drafted, does not recognize Russia's possession of the Kurile Islands or the south half of Sakhalin taken from Japan after World War II.

The official announcement reminded each country that the peace treaty text had been circulated to all prior to issuance of the conference bids and added: "It is believed that the enclosed draft treaty and declarations combine and reconcile, as far as is practicable, the point of view of all the Allied powers which were at war with Japan and will establish, with Japan, a just and durable peace."

However, the U.S. and British government declared themselves ready to receive further comments on the treaty draft, which was made public earlier this month. They said that after these are received they would circulate "a final text" on August 13.

As for the meeting in San Francisco, each nation was notified that all of the countries at war with Japan are being invited "except where special circumstances exist."

This was a reference to China. The United States and Britain agreed not to invite China since the U.S. recognizes the Chinese Nationalist government and Britain the Communist government.

Instead Japan will be given authority to make a special treaty with whichever Chinese government it chooses, and the Washington assumption is that it will deal with the Nationalist government.

THRU TRAFFIC STOP SIGNS ARE VOIDED IN '52

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP) — The familiar "thru traffic stop" sign at intersections will become a thing of the past in Pennsylvania after June 1, 1952.

Gov. John S. Fine signed into law a bill to outlaw that type of sign. Instead, the sign will have to bear the imprint "stop" to be legal.

E. L. Schmidt, chief engineer of the State Highways department, said thousands of state-owned "thru traffic stop" signs throughout the commonwealth would be repainted to conform with regulations. Municipalities he said, would be expected to do the same.

"What You Should Try Is The New Iodine-Iron-Vitamin Tonic," says PEOPLES' DRUG STORE

If you are rundown—low spirited—have sleepless nights—no energy—"nerves"—poor appetite, don't be discouraged! Chances are you are just not getting your full daily requirements of the necessary vitamins and minerals from the food you eat!

What you should do is try FERRIZAN—the new dietary supplement and reconstructive tonic. FERRIZAN not only gives you your full quota of many of the essential vitamins but also supplies the equally important Iron for the blood and Iodine for the ductless glands plus needed Calcium and Phosphorus.

Often in ten days you may feel the difference; your friends notice

it. Back comes your appetite—you should actually feel the urge to eat. Nerves can grow steeper; work easier; you may sleep soundly.

So why delay? Why not decide now to take FERRIZAN for 30 days and see for yourself just how wonderful FERRIZAN can make you feel. Costs you only a few cents a day. Money refunded if not completely satisfied, says PEOPLES' DRUG STORE.

FRANCO SHIFTS HIS CABINET; HINT MONARCHY

Madrid, July 20 (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco appointed a new cabinet last night in a bid for American dollars and closer ties with the non-Communist West.

Highly-placed sources said also that the new cabinet, which is strongly monarchist, would place a king on Spain's throne. The throne has been vacant since Alfonso XIII abdicated and fled in 1931. Restoration of the monarchy is expected to come only after long and delicate negotiations.

Franco himself remains as chief of state and president of the government.

The shakeup came shortly after the visit to Spain of eight American senators, representing the foreign relations committee, and of Adm. Forrest Sherman, the U. S. Navy chief, who reportedly reached a basic agreement with Franco on American use of Spanish naval and air bases.

GARDEN TIMETABLE BEFORE WINTER

Snap beans of bunch varieties may be planted safely until August 10 to 15. In fact, if plants are protected later from unseasonably early frosts, it may be wise to gamble with a planting as late as August 25.

Beets should be planted for the main and important late crop by the first week in August. Because this plant is resistant to frosts of mild scope, some gardeners make an extra late planting around August 15.

Vigorously rooted broccoli plants should be set out before the first week in August. Seed may be sown in the row this week and later thinned.

C-D Plans Use Of State's Airports

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—State civil defense and aeronautics officials have agreed on a plan to utilize the state's airports in case of an atomic bomb attack. But what function each airport would serve in the plan has not yet been decided, officials say.

As developed so far the plan unofficially calls for the following breakdown of the 350 landing strips in the state:

1. Airports in areas such as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Harrisburg would be designated as master control airports.

2. Airports in places like York, Lancaster, Allentown, Erie and Reading would be known as control airports.

3. Emergency landing strips, private air fields and others would be listed as "satellites."

The plan calls for using the master airports as places for evacuating seriously injured, importing medical supplies and food, and whatever other needs would be required after an attack.

Firemen Rescue 17 From Building

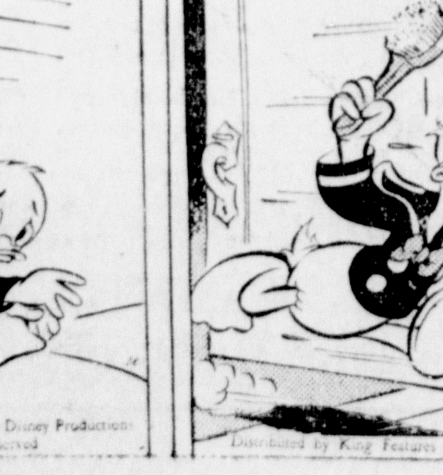

Darby, Pa., July 20 (AP)—Seventeen persons, including a grandmother and five children, were taken down ladders today after they were trapped on the smoke-filled second floor of a burning apartment building.

Firemen from six Delaware county communities confined the flames to the basement. Smoke and water caused considerable damage to both floors of the two-story brick Sterling apartments.

Three of the occupants and a fireman required treatment for smoke inhalation. A score of other firemen were treated for minor injuries at the scene. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Allentown, Pa., July 20 (AP)—Rev. Thomas H. Evans, a Methodist minister, who served churches throughout eastern Pennsylvania for 41 years, is dead at 84. Dr. Evans, a native of Mahanoy City, died in Allentown yesterday. He was a graduate of Dickinson and Ursinus colleges. He held pastorates in Philadelphia, Delaware and Bucks counties, Allentown, Easton, Norristown, Lansdale and Ardmore. When he retired in 1934, Dr. Evans was pastor of the Simpson Memorial Methodist church in Ardmore.

YOUNG TREES AND SHRUB CARE

Newly planted shade trees and shrubs, including both evergreen and deciduous, often suffer severely from the evils of dry weather the first summer after planting. Perhaps spring-planted specimens are more adversely hit by summer conditions than those set out in late fall. The experience of the editor's neighbor in the last two weeks suggests a sound and safe course of action.

Last November he set out two fine native specimens of Liquidambar styraciflua, often erroneously called Maple-Leaved Gum. Both trees were handled properly during transplanting operations and their tops pruned back rather closely as the species requires. But neither came into vigorous leaf this spring. Leaves were abnormally small and sparse. In May they received commercial fertilizer with no visible results. Two weeks ago the editor suggested that holes be made around the base with an iron bar and the entire rooting area soaked with water. This was completed for one tree but other affairs interfered with watering the second tree.

Within 10 days the thoroughly watered tree, although rainfall had been liberal in the meantime, showed remarkable improvement with new leaves numerous and older leaves becoming larger. The unwatered tree is still puny.

Evergreens often suffer more from lack of adequate moisture the first summer after transplanting than do deciduous shrubs. This is probably the result of an earlier and heavier demand of the evergreen foliage for sustenance in late winter and early spring.

Three facts should be stressed in plans and methods to carry newly transplanted trees and shrubs over their first summer. First, there should be at least 10 to 14 inches of well rotted compost under the rooting stratum, preferably mixed with loam. This serves as a moisture reservoir. Next, the soil surface around the trunk should be left concave in order to catch and hold rain. Too this cupped area should be covered with moisture-conserving litter. And third, watering is usually necessary even when rainfall is heavy. Rarely does enough rain fall between April and November to keep the lower stratum of soil under trees and shrubs sufficiently moist to satisfy their demands in their new homes.

The method of watering is important in helping all large woody plants. Again our neighbor's mistake serves as an example. When we suggested he water his two young trees he stated that he had been watering them every few days since warm weather arrived. But inquiries elicited the fact that he had merely moistened the surface soil a little with the garden hose. And soil

One of the most effective insecticides for controlling corn borers on sweet corn is rotenone. This is sold under several trade names. The spray should be prepared according to directions on the package. Of course, sprays should not be made from rotenone dusts intended for application as a dust. If no spreader is already mixed with the spray powder, it may prove wise to add Areskap or Utrawet as the manufacturer advises. There is need for further research before ordinary spreaders are used on corn, as many of them now damage the foliage.

When to begin spraying is an important factor in European corn borer combat. No calendar deadline can be advised because of variations in the hatching season. Growers should learn to detect and recognize the egg masses. When the dark heads of larvae show in the eggs, spraying should be started. Therefore an application every 5 days is advisable until at least four careful sprayings are made.

Too, it is important that enough material be applied to coat the tassels liberally, soak the whorls, and allow spray to run off at the stalk base.

Gardeners and farmers may exterminate this costly foe by cooperating in community-wide cleanups before winter. All borer-infested stalks should be cut off at the ground and shredded finely for silage or compost. Or such litter may be turned under deeply.

To obtain more intimate knowledge of the borer, growers should write their congressmen for free copies of Leaflet 225 — Protecting Sweet Corn From The European Corn Borer. Of course, the editor invites all questions about combat and preventive measures. Please enclose

LAUD PILOT FOR BRINGING PLANE DOWN IN FIELD

Richmond, Va., July 20 (AP)—Everybody agreed the veteran pilot had done a terrific job—even the top brass.

One of the bosses just happened to be aboard yesterday when a storm-whipped airliner carrying 48 passengers and a crew of five was set down in a pasture near Richmond during a violent storm.

There were no injuries—thanks to skilful maneuvering of the four-engine New York-to-Miami Constellation during its belly landing by Capt. J. B. Armstrong, of Miami.

Said J. H. Brock, a vice president of Eastern Air Lines:

"I don't think any of the passengers knew we were going to make an emergency landing. And it was only after we had bumped into the field and had come to a stop that any of them knew anything was wrong."

Most Were Airlsick

Brock might have exaggerated a little. Many persons were aware of the turbulent weather and the trouble the plane was having after it passed Philadelphia. Most of them were airsick.

But there was no panic and little confusion as the big craft skimmed across the grass, ripped through a small fence and finally stopped near a wooded area on a large estate 15 miles southeast of here.

As flames licked up over a wing tip, the 53 persons aboard trooped out into the rain-drenched field. They shivered in a farm home as they waited for buses sent to the farm by the airline.

The fire didn't cause any damage.

heaped up around the trunks caused this inadequate supply to run away.

To soak the compost-lightened moisture reservoir beneath trees and shrubs it is necessary to make several holes in the surrounding soil and pour enough water into these to accomplish the task. In the case of the watered Liquidambar tree, approximately 15 gallons of water was poured into the rooting area before the holes refused to absorb any more. Results proved the wisdom of both methods and quantity.

Many older established trees and shrubs suffer from lack of moisture from late June until fall rains come. The same is true of fruit trees in general. Numerous commercial orchardists have proved the practicability of irrigation in terms of more and better fruit.

Germany's history dates back to the Franks, Goths, Huns and other invading tribes from central Asia.

Union Wins Under Taft-Hartley Act

Walla Walla, Wash., July 20 (AP)—A union sued an employer under the Taft-Hartley act and won yesterday.

An all male federal jury empaneled from surrounding farming counties heard the case and awarded $1,000 to the International Union of Boilermakers (AFL) in its damage action against the Walsburg (Wash.) Welding Works Inc.

Attorneys said it was the first time in the United States a union had brought suit against an employer under terms of the Taft-Hartley act.

When I announced for the office of Commissioner of Adams County I decided to try to see most of the voters so as to tell them why I was a Candidate. My physical walking handicap has prevented this, but I can assure you if you nominate and elect me to this office, this handicap will not prevent me from attending to all the duties of the office. Anything that you can do for me will be so much appreciated.

MARTIN VOTED "YES"

Washington, July 20 (P)—Senator Edward Martin (R-Pa.) voted with 27 other Republicans and ten Democrats for an amendment by Senators Jenner (R-Ind.) and Dirksen (R-Ill.) to permit states to get their share of federal welfare funds even though they open rolls to public inspection. Senator James H. Duff was not listed as voting. The amendment carried yesterday, 38 to 30.

NEW POWERS FOR STATE ON DEER SEASONS

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—The state Game Commission was given broad new power today to regulate hunting of antlerless deer in Pennsylvania.

A new state law, signed last night by Gov. John S. Fine, gives the commission sole power for the first time to fix open hunting seasons on a county-by-county basis and set license quotas for the counties. It also fixes a special license of $1.10 for antlerless deer hunting, in addition to the regular $3.15 hunting license.

The law takes away from local sportsmen and farmers the right to abrogate open seasons in their home counties by petition. Previously such petitions, if signed by over 50 per cent of the licensed sportsmen and farmers in a particular county, could prevent hunting in that county.

State Herd Too Large
Last year, a total of 14 Pennsylvania counties used the abrogation provision to block commission attempts to allow antlerless hunting in their areas.

Thomas D. Frye, executive director of the state Game Commission, termed the new law a step in the right direction toward meeting the deer problem. "I am not sure this law would be the final answer to the deer problem," he said, but added: "It is certainly better than what we have had."

Pennsylvania's deer herd now numbers some 700,000, a size said by the commission to be too large for available food cover. As a result, many have been reported damaging farm crops, while others have starved for lack of food during wintertime.

The answer, the commission has maintained, would be to give that agency more power to fix season limits and bags. Some sportsmen have differed with this view.

Two-Day Season

The antlerless deer season this year has been fixed for December 14-15. It follows the regular buck season which runs from December 3-13.

The new law specifies that in fixing quota limits for antlerless licenses, the commission must put 60 per cent on sale within the affected county and the remainder in the hands of the state Revenue Department.

It also stipulates that out-of-state hunters seeking the special antlerless hunting permits may obtain them only during the 30-day period preceding the opening of the season.

Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

LIVING TOGETHER IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Matthew 25:31-46; Acts 6:1-7; Romans 12:9-21; 13:8-10

Memory selection: Truly I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these My brethren, you did it to Me. Matthew 25:40. Two displaced persons, husband and wife, were sent to me with a difficult problem. When the lunch hour arrived I took them to a nearby restaurant where the waitress who served us remarked to me about the very poor clothes the woman wore. "Would she accept some of mine?" she asked. The woman would. Later in the day, outfitted from head to foot, our new neighbor returned to the office. The waitress had given to this woman in need clothing, some of which she had but recently bought for herself. It was a striking illustration of true neighborliness.

The basic principle of our lesson is love—love in operation. Paul's letter to the Romans is, for the most part, not easy reading. It discusses theological problems in a manner difficult to understand. But in the assigned text Paul is decidedly practical. He has a word of counsel for contacts we might have, or conditions we might meet. In this respect the Apostle speaks as did Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount. He sums up: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself."

Paul is specific. "Let love be genuine," he pleads. Be a good neighbor for its own sake. Do not use apparent love for any other purpose than to obey the law of Christ. Do not employ generosity for eventual advantage. American wheat should have gone to the starving thousands of India long ago, and for the simple reason that the need is tragic. One fears political considerations were entertained. But there is nothing in the teachings of Jesus or Paul to permit the use of charity in a bargaining spirit.

"Contribute to the needs of the saints, practice hospitality." The latest war has left millions in Europe without church homes which had once been a source of spiritual blessing. Their condition still seems almost hopeless. What an opportunity to show hospitality; to do the part of a good Samaritan! "Owe no man anything, but to love one another." Here Paul touches on a practical question in private and public life. Paying financial obligations promptly and in full helps to promote the general welfare. This applies to the community as well as to the individual and after these duties have been met the Christian will still "owe" it to his neighbor to seek out opportunities to serve him with kindness. Serving beyond the call of duty is the over-flow of love, and meets the expectation of the Lord of love.

Paul has given us a category of (Please Turn to Page 10)

CONVERSATION

A parrot can talk. But he can only say the things he has heard!

Human conversation is not so far removed from parrot-talk as we might like to believe. We too base most of our conversation on the things we have heard. But we digest thoughts that have been given us, consider them, make them our own, and then repeat them in our own words.

And yet, unlike the parrots, we influence others by the gift of speech. Our words can brighten or darken the lives of many people.

The God who has given us the gift of speech has also given us access to Truth. The spiritual knowledge we gain as we worship and study in our churches is the key to what the Bible calls "a holy conversation."

And that doesn't mean using pious phrases! It means using the gift of speech to help, rather than hurt, ourselves and others.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

TELL LIONS OF BLOOD PROGRAM

Two million pints of blood are needed under the Red Cross program, according to a report given by Paul L. Hollinger at the second July meeting of the Littlestown Lions club Thursday evening at Banker's restaurant, South Queen street. Mr. Hollinger, a member from the blood donor committee from the local club, spoke on the plans discussed at a meeting of the Adams County Blood Donor committee, which he attended at Christ Lutheran church in Gettysburg.

In the near future, the local Lions plan to canvass the community for blood donors and they will furnish transportation to Christ Lutheran church in Gettysburg, which will be established as a blood donor station. The local committee in charge of the project is composed of John D. Basehoar, chairman, Stanley D. Bowersox, Henry E. Waltman, Clayton L. Evans, Chester S. Byers and Mr. Hollinger.

Two films, "Sports Parade" and "Travelogue," comprised the entertainment for the program at the Thursday meeting. The films, which depicted major scenic views in America, were shown by John D. Basehoar. The Civic Improvement committee composed of Kenneth D. James, Holman L. Sell and H. Dewey, Strivig was in charge of the program. Immediately following the regular meeting a directors meeting was held, at which time Marvin F. Breighner was appointed program director for the 1951-1952 club year. The group approved the purchase of three sets of children's glasses at a cost of $29.10 and one set of glasses for an elderly person of the community at a cost of $15. The group also furnished ten watermelons for the Visitors' Night and party held by Littlestown Boy Scout troop, No. 84, at their annual week of camp at Natural dam Thursday evening.

A family night event will be held at the next meeting of the Lions club on Thursday, August 2, at the Gettysburg Country club. At the same time the club will entertain the members of the school patrols from both the public and parochial schools. The Greeter committee composed of Wilbur E. Mackley, chairman, H. Dean Stover and Chester S. Byers will be in charge of arrangements and this committee will meet on Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the home of the chairman on East King street, to discuss plans for the entertainment on that occasion.

Doubtful Weather Cuts Legion Crowd

Due to the unpredictable weather the first night of the annual summer carnival sponsored by Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, on Thursday evening, was not very well attended. Entertainment was furnished by Bud Messner and His Rangers, of radio fame.

This evening music will be provided by Gary Epley and the Skyline Boys. This group is featured regularly over the radio station in Hanover. The Littlestown Junior-Senior high school band under the direcprecepts for true Christian living. Almost every mood and most of the situations one finds in life are touched upon. Brotherly affection is at times difficult so "be constant in prayer" so, that you may see the brighter side of things and rejoice for the hope that is in you. Be happy always even if with those who weep and mourn for in that spirit you can be helpful. Put aside conceits and you will be a fit companion to the lowly, and your life will be one of harmony both within yourself and in relation to others. Do not pay back evil for evil.

Paul recognizes that peace depends on the attitudes of others as well as yourself, so he counsels that you live peaceably "so far as it depends upon you." And as your enemy is concerned give him food and drink and by so doing "heap burning coals upon his head." That advice is especially difficult to follow but it has been done. David, when pursued by the vengeful Saul, refused to take his foe's life when the latter was at his mercy.

The virtues of Christian character recommended by Paul when practiced in the community or neighborhood will promote to a high level the life of a nation. Eventually mankind will live on that higher plain. In that day love for all sorts and conditions of men will have full sway, and the Lord will give His blessed approval: "Truly, I say unto you, as you did it to one of the least of My brethren, you did it to Me."

Questions

1. What is basic principle of the lesson?
2. What does Paul stress?
3. Where does Jesus speak of this?

4. Who showed mercy to a foe?
5. How can you serve Jesus?

Answers

1. Love of neighbor.
2. Love in action.

3. In Sermon on the Mount.
4. David to King Saul.
5. By serving His brethren.

SUMMER MUSIC FESTIVAL TO BE HELD ON SUNDAY

A varied and entertaining program will be presented at the second annual Summer Music Festival to be held on Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock on Littlestown Memorial field. In case of rain the affair, which is being sponsored by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held on the following Sunday evening, July 29. Mack Edwards, Hanover, and Al Ross, Baltimore, will serve as masters of ceremonies.

"The Papermakers," a barbershop harmony quartet from Spring Grove, has been secured as outside entertainment. This quartet will first place in the barbershop quartet contest, sponsored recently by the Upper Adams Lions club. Among the local talent to be featured will be the Littlestown high school Senior chorus and also the Junior High chorus, both under the direction of Mrs. William Wilt, supervisor of music at the school. Both choruses will accompany the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school band, for several selections. The band, under the direction of Paul A. Harner, will also entertain with a group of numbers, and the high school baton twirlers will appear with the band. Miss Joan Shull, drum majorette, will present a solo act with the fire baton. This will be her first appearance with the baton, having fire at both ends.

Patsy Crouse and Stewart Long, both well known vocalists throughout the community, will offer several duets. Mrs. Crouse has made many solo appearances, as well as being on a television show, and Mr. Long, popular tenor with the Littlestown Men's chorus, has frequently entertained for local organizations.

The second half of the program will begin with a drill performance by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Drum and Bugle Corps of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954. The Littlestown Men's chorus, directed by L. Robert Snyder, will entertain during a portion of the program and the final number, the "Lord's Prayer," will be sung by the chorus, accompanied by the high school band, featuring Stewart N. Long as soloist.

H. Vernon Ferster, immediate past president of the state Jaycees and winner of the Frost award as being one of the outstanding state Jaycee presidents in the nation last year, will appear at the musical. Mr. Ferster has also served as a past president of the Hanover Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Contest On Tickets

All remaining proceeds after the expenses of the affair are paid will be turned over directly to reduce the indebtedness of Littlestown Memorial field. Tickets are now being sold by the Littlestown Girl Scouts and at Marvin's Cut Rate Store, South Queen street. The scouts have organized two teams for the ticket sales. The Brownies are called the "Yankees" and the other scouts are the "Red Sox." The team selling the most tickets will be given an ice cream party by the Jaycees and the girls having the greatest number of sales will receive a prize from the sponsoring organization. General admission tickets for the bleachers are 75 cents; the grandstand reserved section tickets are $1 each and the admission price for children from six to 12 years of age is 50 cents.

The general committee for the affair is composed of L. Robert Snyder, Marvin F. Breighner and Robert H. Miller, co-chairmen. The members of the field and equipment committee are Wilbur E. Mackley, chairman; Clyde W. Crouse, Charles E. Tressler, George H. Dittlow, Lavere A. Breighner, Charles E. Babenstine, Rodney L. Law and Harold O. Sentz, and these men have been requested to report at Memorial field at 1 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, to make preliminary arrangements for the musical. The concessions committee, consisting of Harry Strine, chairman; Clayton D. Evans, Paul C. Mayers, Harold Harner, Maurice E. Bream, Ivan Kindig, John J. Way, John Kershner and John D. Basehoar, will meet at the concessions stand at 7 o'clock that evening to make necessary preparations for the affair. The advertising and publicity committee, composed of Ralph R. Ruggles, Jr., chairman, Donald Z. Mann, Ray T. Harner and John H. Riley, wishes to extend thanks on be-

MUCH INTEREST IN REC PROGRAM

Various types of activities have taken place and great interest has been shown by the children and youth of the community participating in the summer recreational program, which is carried on each week day under the supervision of Mrs. Kay Crouse Sentz and Clayton L. Evans. During the morning sessions from 9:30 to 11:30 for children up to ten years of age, both active and quiet games are played. The past week, stories such as "The Gingerbread Man" and "A Trip to the Farm" were read to the children. Other projects carried on by the children included making miniature half of the Jaycees to all those who so generously placed advertising in the program for the music festival. The ticket committee consists of James L. Rhoades, chairman; Frank E. Basehoar, Paul E. Renner, J. Robert Sell and Edward T. Richardson, Jr.

WILL KEEP U.N. ARMY IN KOREA; SUSPECT REDS

Washington, July 20 (AP)—The United States intends to see that United Nations troops remain in Korea indefinitely after an armistice.

This was made clear by Secretary of State Acheson in a statement last night setting forth the reasons UN negotiators at Kaesong oppose a Communist proposal for an agreement now on withdrawal of all "foreign forces" from Korea.

The statement bluntly linked the question of withdrawal of forces on the UN side to ultimate proof of Communist good faith in maintaining a Korean peace.

It had the effect, furthermore, of serving emphatic notice on the Reds at a critical point in the Kaesong talks that the issue of troop withdrawal, which had already deadlocked the conference, was one upon which the United States government was not prepared to back down nor to compromise.

Want Genuine Peace

"If there is an effective armistice," Acheson said, "a United Nations force must remain in Korea until a genuine peace has been firmly established and the Korean people have assurance that they can work out their future free from the fear of aggression."

"The size of the United Nations force remaining in Korea will depend upon circumstances and, particularly, upon the faithfulness with which an armistice is carried out."

To the Chinese Communists and the Soviet Union Acheson offered assurance that the continued presence of UN forces would constitute "no danger or threat." He declared that the policies of the UN and the "very nature of that organization" provide "entirely adequate guarantees on this point."

This one says You've Arrived

HERE pictured is an automobile that may well be the fulfillment of any man's dream of a fine motorcar.

For you've a right to expect, when you pay a fine-car price, that your money will buy more distinction, more comfort, more performance than are to be found in vehicles of lesser worth.

So mark well the things that a ROADMASTER offers.

No other car on the American scene has a prouder bearing.

No other automobile has more spacious dimensions, more luxurious comfort, or finer appointments.

No other car has a ride more serenely smooth on curve or straightaway, highway or byway.

And no other car, at ROADMASTER's price or above, has Dynaflo, and the supreme command of every traffic condition which it provides.

So you, at the wheel of Buick's biggest and best, have a right to feel distinguished.

But there's a joy of possession which goes deeper than visible things.

There's the feel of a power plant as brilliantly eager as this great car's valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the satisfying companionship of a brawny traveler instantly responsive to your every wish.

And there's one thing more, which only ROADMASTER can give you in such generous measure. That is the pride of a wise investment, based on the fact that this car stands alone in price per pound, among fine cars similarly equipped.

So why not take that very important first step—and come in and see us soon?

Driver Skids Off Road, Damages Car

Richard Herbert Wolf, 45, of Gary, Ind., broke a mail box and damaged his car to the extent of $75 at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when he skidded off the highway on the Emmitsburg road three and a half miles south of Gettysburg, according to state police of the Gettysburg station.

Police said Wolf was traveling south and as he drove over the crest of a hill, saw a truck and house trailer which had just passed another vehicle, approaching. He applied his brakes and skidded on the wet road.

No one was injured. Police said the truck-trailer was operated by Richard S. Shephardson, 34, of South Plymouth, N. Y.

Last Crown Prince Of Once Imperial Germany Expires

Hechingen, Germany, July 20 (AP)—Imperial Germany's last crown prince—Friedrich Wilhelm of Hohenzollern—died at his little villa here early today after a long illness. He was 69.

Eldest son of Germany's last Kaiser, Wilhelm II, Prince Wilhelm since World War II had lived in near seclusion here within sight of a hilltop Hohenzollern castle which he could not afford to run.

In World War I he was in nominal charge—with general staff experts constantly at his elbow—of the German army in the bloody carnage of Verdun. After the heroic French stand had stemmed the German offensive, he was kicked upstairs to command of an army group.

Fled To Holland

He followed his abdicating father into exile in Holland, remaining there five years. Allowed back in Germany in 1923, he settled down to managing the vast Hohenzollern estates. Russian occupation after World War II took most of them from him.

The crown prince was a direct descendant of Queen Victoria.

He had been in frail health. He suffered a severe heart attack several weeks ago and at first made a promising recovery, but took a turn for the worse during the past few days.

A heart specialist gave the cause of death as arterial sclerosis.

As head of his ex-imperial house, Wilhelm made his last formal public appearance at the marriage of his daughter, Princess Cecilie, to interior decorator Clyde Harris, of Amarillo, Texas.

One of his sons, Prince Louis Ferdinand, studied American automotive manufacturing in Detroit before the last war. In recent years he has operated a sales agency for an American company in Bremen.

Wilhelm married Cecilie, duchess of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, in 1905. They had four sons and two daughters. The crown princess has lived apart from her husband for many years.

Approved Hitler

Most professional soldiers rated the crown prince's military talents as hardly above average, although he held titular command of an entire army.

After the war he claimed that, despite his ill-repute abroad, he had tried his best in September, 1914, to arrange a quick peace to the vast conflict that had broken out only the month before.

He also denied that he ever favored Hitler's movement, although history shows he issued an announcement in April, 1932, favoring Hitler's election and in July, 1933, wrote an article for a London Sunday newspaper endorsing Nazism.

Mummasburg

Mummasburg—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rinehart and three children, Reading, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Rinehart.

The Misses Shirley and Lorena Stull have returned home after a week spent at Camp Laurelville.

Mrs. Nellie Leatherman spent some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leatherman, near Harney.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Wilson and children, Barbara Ann and Richard, spent Wednesday at Hartsdale and other places of interest.

STIFFER PENALTIES

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—A new state law today fixed sharp new penalties for persons convicted of bribery in athletic contests in Pennsylvania. The new law, signed last night by Gov. John S. Fine, triples present fines for anyone convicted of participating in sports "fixes."

The new statute increases the fine for violators from $3,000 to $10,000 and the alternate, or accompanying jail sentence, from three to 10 years.

HAS GARDEN ODDITY

Mrs. Roy Legore, Mummasburg road, Gettysburg R. 3, was displaying a vegetable oddity today to her friends. It was an Irish Coddler potato stalk with a cluster of three green tomatoes where potato blossoms had once been. Mrs. Legore said there had been five tomatoes in the cluster but two had fallen off. Underground the stalk was producing spuds as Irish Coddlers are expected to do.

WETS, DRY SEE OPTION GAINS

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—A leader of dry forces today predicted a "smashing victory" on Tuesday in 132 local option battles over liquor and beer. A wet leader said his group is "quietly confident."

At the same time, both leaders said they expect to send more voters to the polls on Tuesday than political parties waging primary battles. The leaders termed the issue "paramount, in some cases more important than the political fights."

Dr. O. B. Poulson, legislative director of the Pennsylvania temperance league, said his group would score victories in "at least 65 per cent of the campaigns we have undertaken."

J. Grant Peterson, of Williamsport, president of the retail liquor dealers of Pennsylvania, said his group "won't be hurt in this campaign and we will do ourselves some good."

Some 82 of the local governments will vote on the sale of both liquor and beer; 33 on liquor alone; and 17 on beer only. Fifty of the balloting communities are now completely dry. A liquor license permits the sale of both liquor and beer while only beer can be sold under a beer license.

"We have always won at least 65 per cent of these campaigns since the repeal act was passed," Dr. Poulson said. "This year's program and the reception it has received leads us to believe that we will do as well or better than the 65 per cent mark."

Ranch owner George Stephens proved for himself, in the big Economy Run, just how little it costs to run his Ford Truck!

"The Lazy J's Ford Express did itself proud in the Run," says Stephens. "Daily records kept during the entire six months show that our Ford Truck ran up a total of 5,109 miles. My out-of-pocket expense for gas, oil, maintenance and repairs was exactly $123.51 . . . about a $20 bill each month . . . only 2 2/5 cents a mile!"

The Ford Truck POWER PILOT is one reason why Ford Trucks cost so little to run, in ranch work or any work. The POWER PILOT gives you the most power from the least gas. In the low-price field, only Ford has it!
